What is Separation Anxiety?

Separation anxiety is the fear of being separated from a parent or other significant person in a child's life. It is very common in preschool growth and development.

The beginning of a school year is the number one cause of separation anxiety in preschoolers. Some children transition smoothly into school . Others have a tough time in the beginning and display symptoms that vary.

One child may react by crying, another by yelling, another by displaying defiance and yet in others extreme quietness.

In all cases, it is based on the child's fears and insecurities of this new situation. We know this can be a difficult time for the child and the parent.

There are many things you can do to help your child with the transition to preschool before, during and after school begins! We are here to work with you, as a team, to help your child transition as smoothly as possible into school.

With that end in mind, we give you the following tips!
